The bus transfers are operated by independent bus companies. The TID organisers collect the bus fares and the bus companies send out the invoices in mid-May. To achieve this the bus companies, require your home address. The trips can only be organized if there is sufficient uptake. The seats on the busses are primarily intended for TID-participants.

Apart from the return trip from Romania (s. below), bus seats will be reserved in chronological order of registration. The deadline for registration for the TID is the 30th April 2027, however for the bus return from Brăila, Romania it is the 28th February 2027.

In recent years, the bus transfers have proven successful and will remain mostly unchanged. We hope to offer an outward bus transfer from Coswig/Anhalt to Vidin, Bulgaria, with a stop near Leipzig and a return trip from Brăila to Leipzig or Coswig. However, these will only be possible if there is sufficient interest. Last year, we trialed a feeder bus from Coswig via Leipzig to Ingolstadt, which was well received. We will therefore offer this again this year if there is sufficient interest.

Departure times from the different starting points are fixed.
It is not possible to bring dogs.

Boat transport: The bus boat trailers can transport about 20 rigid boats. Additionally, there is capacity for about 10 folding boats. At the time of registration, the organizers should be notified of particularly long boats, i.e. over 5.50 m. Canadian canoes or other extra-wide boats can only be transported upon request. No liability will be accepted for any damage to boats during transport (See also conditions of participation, paragraph 5). Some form of canoe insurance is strongly recommended.
Please allow one hour before departure for boat loading – and make sure you bring your own securing straps of sufficient load strength and length!

We would like to point out that the bus trips to/from Vidin or Brăila are very long and exhausting. If necessary, thrombosis stockings are recommended.

Seats for the return bus from Brăila, Romania
There is a limited number of bus seats for the return journey from the Black Sea/Tulcea (this year from Brăila). In the past there has been a lot of demand for the return seats from Romania. This has created problems as they are frequently booked on the first day of registration.
In order to give a fair chance to those participants, who either wish to canoe the entire TID, or to paddle the Romanian section for the first time, the organizers have set up a points system for booking the Brăila bus.

"All the way paddlers" or participants who travel a long section will receive one bonus point for every 1000 km paddled to the Romanian border. Anyone, who has not used buses on the Romanian stretch in the last 5 years (when this was possible), will receive a half bonus point per year. Successful applicants for a Brăila bus seat will be informed by mid-March. Unsuccessful applicants will be placed on a waiting list. Experience has shown that there are always some cancellations before the start and along the route.
We kindly ask you to refrain from enquiring about your application.
At the close of registration it will be decided if extra buses are required.
